

Message from the Master Association Management Co.,

The current COVID-19 epidemic is requiring management to function under modified procedure. This type of situation has never been experienced and as a result there is an influx of communication surrounding this matter.

In order to maximize the ability of management to effectively manage your community association during this epidemic, we are requesting that non essential communication be limited. We are doing our best to accommodate current and new work orders and continue all other services accordingly. It is important at this time to try to prioritize the tasks at hand to effectively address each client's needs.

Thank you,

Cambridge Prop. Mgt.